During the last 12 years he was closely associated with the financial management of several Ministries, particularly industrial and commercial and served as Government Director on many important public enterprises. several countries on Government business. In the development of public enterprises during the last decade, he played a leading role. In recognition of his ability and unique knowledge of the working and problems of public enterprises, he was selected to head the Bureau of Public Enterprises, when it was set up in March 1965. He was recently deputed as the Indian representative on the United Nations Ad Hoc Committee to examine the finances of the United Nations and the Specialised Agencies. It was during one of the visits in connection with this assignment that he passed away at New York.

Shri Ghei was a conscientious, hardworking and devoted public servant who rendered valuable service to the Government in various capacities, particularly in the field of public enterprises. By his untimely death the country has lost an experienced and outstanding financial administrator.
